Description of artistic interest

I'm not looking for hard frame areas of art I prefer to freely penetrate the medium to the medium, blurring the boundaries of specific areas. Painting that I create is often a result of improvisation, a process that provokes constant movement and constant changes, combine many medium like video, sound, and actions. I prefer to act create, process destroy, make mistakes indefinitely, in search of this form that will satisfy. Over the last year, topics that I undertake to oscillate mainly around memories and current experiences. I analyze what affects and changes perception, current events and memorized stories, situations.

I explore the possibilities of perception and absurdities and curvatures resulting from unique experiences, our physiognomic limits, forgetting the memories collected and synthesizing them into new forms that did not exist in the real world.

The formation process is very important to me works, what happens on the way and what a great impact on the work you have the environment in which we find ourselves and external stimuli, we can not remain indifferent in the process of creation to the entire externality that surrounds us.

In painting, the moments of crossing are the most interesting borders when you enter areas that have not been seen recently acceptable. It involves different processes of consciousness, experience.
